In The News
Tuesday, October 30, 2012

» Asma infantile: La búsqueda continúa
(Fernando Martínez de la Escuela de Medicina de la Universidad de Arizona)
10/29/2012 El Imparcial
View Clip

» Is There Life After Death? Scientist Attempts to Explain What ...
(Dr. Stuart Hameroff)
10/29/2012 TheBlaze.com
Newstrack India
Mail Online
View Clip

» Novel, Oral Drug TTP488 Shows Promise for Disease Modification in Alzheimer's Patients
| Business Wire (Marwan Sabbagh MD, FAAN, Research Professor of Neurology, University of Arizona College of Medicine-Phoenix)
10/29/2012 Business Wire – Canada
Genetic Engineering & Biotechnology News
Pharmacy Choice
PharmaLive
View Clip

» Official: Tainted steroids now have connection to Arizona
(Dr. John Guisto, heads emergency department at the University of Arizona Medical Center – University Campus)
10/29/2012 Cronkite News
View Clip

» Kids' Outcomes Equal Across Pediatric, Adult Trauma Centers
(Dr. Cassandra Villegas of the University of Arizona in Tucson)
10/29/2012 Family Practice News Digital Network
View Clip

» Grave Mistake (University of Arizona Medical Center)
10/29/2012 TucsonNewsNow.com
View Clip

» Need CPR? Whether you get it may depend on the neighborhood
(Dr. Gordon Ewy of the University of Arizona Sarver Heart Center)
10/29/2012 WGN-TV
View Clip

» Arizona Massage Therapists Needed for Tobacco-Cessation Study
(Dr. Myra Muramoto)
10/28/2012 Massage Magazine
View Clip