In The News
Monday, December 19, 2011

- Creative ideas strengthen our medical safety net (University of Arizona College of Medicine-Phoenix)

  12/19/2011 USA Today [View Clip]

- Medicaid squeeze could squeeze some rural hospitals to death (Lynda Bergsma, director of the Arizona State Office of Rural Health at the University of Arizona)

  12/18/2011 KNXV-TV – Online Tucson Sentinel [View Clip]

- Rice as a source of arsenic exposure (University of Arizona by co-author Professor A. Jay Gandolfi)

  12/17/2011 AgroTimes [View Clip]

- Lifestyle: When allergies go west (Anne Wright and colleagues at the University of Arizona in Tucson)

  12/17/2011 Nature - Online [View Clip]

- Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation 2011 Nursing Grant Recipients (Gloanna Peek, MSN, RN)

  12/16/2011 Advance for Nurses [View Clip]

- Weil: Mild depression treatable with simple lifestyle changes

  12/16/2011 CNN, The Chart [View Clip]

- Ron Barber to address UA College of Public Health graduates Friday

  12/16/2011 KVOA Tucson News MSNBC.com [View Clip]

- Book Review: Spontaneous Happiness by Andrew Weil

  12/16/2011 Seattle Post Intelligence [View Clip]