Dr. Leslie Boyer Named 2013 Arizona Bioscience Researcher of the Year

Toxicologist and pediatrician Leslie Boyer, MD, founding director of the VIPER (Venom Immunochemistry, Pharmacology and Emergency Response) Institute and associate professor of pathology at the UA College of Medicine – Tucson, has been named the 2013 Arizona Bioscience Researcher of the Year by the Arizona Bioindustry Association.

UA College of Public Health Awarded CEPH Re-accreditation

The UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health has been awarded re-accreditation by the Council on Education for Public Health.

UA Surgeon Removes Softball-Sized Brain Tumor in New UAMC Procedure

Jessica Valenzuela suffered from headaches for years, and they only got worse when the Tucson woman became pregnant with twins.

Faculty Member Earns Award for Autism-Related Research

UA Nursing Professor Receives $1.3M NIH Grant
iVIDA! The Link Between Breast Cancer and Ovarian Cancer

Saturday, Oct 12
8 a.m.-1 p.m.
iVIDA! 8th Annual Mujer Latina Breast Cancer Conference
RSVP: (520) 626-0331, aperino@email.arizona.edu

Shenfeng Qiu, PhD, an assistant professor at the UA College of Medicine – Phoenix, has received a Pilot Grant of $20,000 from the Institute of Mental Health Research.

UA Receives $600,000 CDC Grant for Disaster Preparedness

Barbara B. Brewer, PhD, RN, clinical associate professor at the University of Arizona College of Nursing, has been awarded a four-year, $1.3 million R01 grant by the National Institutes of Health.

Kacey Ernst Named 'Woman of the Year'

Kacey Ernst, assistant professor of epidemiology at the UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health, was named 2013 Woman of the Year at the "40 Under 40" awards ceremony.

Understanding the Health Insurance Marketplace

The Affordable Care Act is designed to help the 16 percent of Americans without health insurance gain access to quality, affordable health care. The Health Insurance Marketplace gives Americans who are uninsured or buy their own coverage, a whole new way to shop for the plan that

The Link Between Breast Cancer and Ovarian Cancer

Saturday, Oct 12
10:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.
‘Heart of the Matter’ Luncheon
An Education Luncheon on Heart Disease in Women

The Mountain West Preparedness and Emergency Response Learning Center at the UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health is the sole recipient of a three-year $600,000 cooperative agreement to work with the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to help communities prepare for public health emergencies and mass casualty events.

Kacey Ernst, assistant professor of epidemiology at the UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health, was named 2013 Woman of the Year at the “40 Under 40” awards ceremony.

UA Receives $600,000 CDC Grant for Disaster Preparedness

Barbara B. Brewer, PhD, RN, clinical associate professor at the University of Arizona College of Nursing, has been awarded a four-year, $1.3 million R01 grant by the National Institutes of Health.

Kacey Ernst Named 'Woman of the Year'

Kacey Ernst, assistant professor of epidemiology at the UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health, was named 2013 Woman of the Year at the "40 Under 40" awards ceremony.

Understanding the Health Insurance Marketplace

The Affordable Care Act is designed to help the 16 percent of Americans without health insurance gain access to quality, affordable health care. The Health Insurance Marketplace gives Americans who are uninsured or buy their own coverage, a whole new way to shop for the plan that

The Link Between Breast Cancer and Ovarian Cancer

Saturday, Oct 12
8 a.m.-1 p.m.
iVIDA! 8th Annual Mujer Latina Breast Cancer Conference
RSVP: (520) 626-0331, aperino@email.arizona.edu

Shenfeng Qiu, PhD, an assistant professor at the UA College of Medicine – Phoenix, has received a Pilot Grant of $20,000 from the Institute of Mental Health Research.

UA Receives $600,000 CDC Grant for Disaster Preparedness

Barbara B. Brewer, PhD, RN, clinical associate professor at the University of Arizona College of Nursing, has been awarded a four-year, $1.3 million R01 grant by the National Institutes of Health.

Kacey Ernst Named 'Woman of the Year'

Kacey Ernst, assistant professor of epidemiology at the UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health, was named 2013 Woman of the Year at the “40 Under 40” awards ceremony.

Understanding the Health Insurance Marketplace

The Affordable Care Act is designed to help the 16 percent of Americans without health insurance gain access to quality, affordable health care. The Health Insurance Marketplace gives Americans who are uninsured or buy their own coverage, a whole new way to shop for the plan that

The Link Between Breast Cancer and Ovarian Cancer

Saturday, Oct 12
8 a.m.-1 p.m.
iVIDA! 8th Annual Mujer Latina Breast Cancer Conference
RSVP: (520) 626-0331, aperino@email.arizona.edu

Shenfeng Qiu, PhD, an assistant professor at the UA College of Medicine – Phoenix, has received a Pilot Grant of $20,000 from the Institute of Mental Health Research.

UA Receives $600,000 CDC Grant for Disaster Preparedness

Barbara B. Brewer, PhD, RN, clinical associate professor at the University of Arizona College of Nursing, has been awarded a four-year, $1.3 million R01 grant by the National Institutes of Health.

Kacey Ernst Named 'Woman of the Year'

Kacey Ernst, assistant professor of epidemiology at the UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health, was named 2013 Woman of the Year at the “40 Under 40” awards ceremony.

Understanding the Health Insurance Marketplace

The Affordable Care Act is designed to help the 16 percent of Americans without health insurance gain access to quality, affordable health care. The Health Insurance Marketplace gives Americans who are uninsured or buy their own coverage, a whole new way to shop for the plan that

The Link Between Breast Cancer and Ovarian Cancer

Saturday, Oct 12
8 a.m.-1 p.m.
iVIDA! 8th Annual Mujer Latina Breast Cancer Conference
RSVP: (520) 626-0331, aperino@email.arizona.edu

Shenfeng Qiu, PhD, an assistant professor at the UA College of Medicine – Phoenix, has received a Pilot Grant of $20,000 from the Institute of Mental Health Research.

UA Receives $600,000 CDC Grant for Disaster Preparedness

Barbara B. Brewer, PhD, RN, clinical associate professor at the University of Arizona College of Nursing, has been awarded a four-year, $1.3 million R01 grant by the National Institutes of Health.

Kacey Ernst Named 'Woman of the Year'

Kacey Ernst, assistant professor of epidemiology at the UA Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health, was named 2013 Woman of the Year at the “40 Under 40” awards ceremony.

Understanding the Health Insurance Marketplace

The Affordable Care Act is designed to help the 16 percent of Americans without health insurance gain access to quality, affordable health care. The Health Insurance Marketplace gives Americans who are uninsured or buy their own coverage, a whole new way to shop for the plan that
2013 Frontiers in Biomedical Research Poster Forum

Every Tuesday in October
Noon-1 p.m.

Frontiers in Medical Research Seminars

Every Friday in October
10 a.m.-2 p.m.

UAMC Farmers’ Market
AHSC Plaza

---

Wednesday, Nov. 6
11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

‘Get to Know the University of Arizona Arthritis Center’ Luncheon

Reservations and payment by Friday, Oct. 25

---

Determine if a compound found in broccoli can enhance the health-promoting effects of the breast cancer drug Tamoxifen in women at risk of developing breast cancer or those previously treated for early-stage breast cancer.

---

Copyright © 2013 Arizona Health Sciences Center, All rights reserved.

You are receiving this email because you are a member of the AHSC community.

Our mailing address is:
Arizona Health Sciences Center
1501 N. Campbell Ave,
Tucson, AZ 85724

[Add us to your address book]
[unsubscribe from this list]  |  [update subscription preferences]