In The News
Monday, October 31, 2011

- Warnings about cancer tests prove difficult to swallow (Richard J. Ablin of the University of Arizona)
  - 10/31/2011
  - Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

- Fewer cancer tests may be better (Richard J. Ablin of the University of Arizona)
  - 10/30/2011
  - News & Observer

- Foot Care Advice for People With Diabetes (Dr. David G. Armstrong, a podiatric surgeon and professor at the University of Arizona’s Department of Surgery)
  - 10/29/2011
  - American Woodworker Magazine

- Maricopa County is seeking to make data more robust (Michael Grossman, associate dean of graduate medical education at the University of Arizona College of Medicine in Phoenix)
  - 10/29/2011
  - Arizona Republic TucsonCitizen.com

- Why we can’t let our guard down (Kacey Ernst, a professor of public health at the University of Arizona)
  - 10/29/2011
  - Arizona Republic

- Nationally Recognized Speakers at BioFlorida’s 14th Annual Conference to Focus on Advancing Biotechnology, Medical Devices and Diagnostics Industries (Dr. Dalton was the founding director of the Bone Marrow Transplant Program at the University of Arizona and served as Dean of the College of Medicine at the University of Arizona in Tucson from 2001-2002)
  - 10/29/2011
  - Benzinga

- Yeast model connects Alzheimer's disease risk and amyloid beta toxicity (Banner Alzheimer’s Institute and Department of Psychiatry, University of Arizona, Phoenix, AZ)
  - 10/29/2011
  - Media Newswire

- Considering When It Might Be Best Not to Know About Cancer (Richard J. Ablin of the University of Arizona)
  - 10/29/2011
  - New York Times

- Research Down Syndrome Announces 2011/2012 Grant Awards
  - 10/29/2011
  - pr-usa.net - Online

- Cancer Screening May Be More Popular Than Useful (Richard J. Ablin of the University of Arizona)
  - 10/29/2011
  - San Antonio Express-News

- Ed P. on Save the Life of Someone You Love (Allan Hamilton, MD, FACS, professor of surgery and radiation oncology, University of Arizona Health Sciences Center)
  - 10/28/2011
  - People’s Pharmacy