January 20, 2016

A new year provides an opportune time to reflect on the many recent successes of the University of Arizona College of Medicine – Tucson. To that end, we are pleased to share with you our annual report: "Shaping the Future of Medicine."

In this e-publication, you will find profiles for each of the UA College of Medicine – Tucson departments, including exciting advancements, new projects, high-profile research grants, leadership appointments and historical highlights. This report shows how we are strengthening our mission to provide innovative new ways to educate the next generation of physicians while improving the health of Arizona, our nation and beyond.

These accomplishments would not be possible without the dedication of our talented faculty, trainees and staff and the support of so many friends of the College, including alumni, donors, and community partners. Through these collective efforts, we are building a world-class college of medicine and the Southwest's premier academic health center.

We hope you are as proud as we are to see the tremendous depth and breadth of the educational, scientific and clinical activities taking place at the College. The achievements truly are inspirational.
