As 2018 draws to a close, I would like to extend best holiday wishes to all of you.

My first seven months at the University of Arizona have been invigorating—from launching a very ambitious strategic planning process, shepherding the development and construction of our new integrative spaces, to speaking with numerous groups and individuals across our campuses and throughout our communities.

With each interaction, I am reminded of how fortunate the UA Health Sciences is to have such remarkable students, faculty, staff and supporters who care deeply about this university and the health of our communities. The idea that we are doing something great for people in our state and around the world is a wonderful reward – one that I hope you feel during this season and throughout the new year.

Enjoy this time with friends and loved ones. I could not be more excited about what we will accomplish in 2019, and for the opportunity to work with all of you to make it happen.

With my very best wishes,

Michael D. Dake, MD
Senior Vice President, UA Health Sciences
