UA Health Sciences Planning to Apply for CTSA Award

PLEASE ASSIST US BY COMPLETING THE SURVEY BELOW

As you may have heard, we have initiated planning for a University of Arizona Clinical & Translational Science Awards Program (CTSA) application. We want to hear from you regarding the CTSA application. We have a strong and vibrant clinical and translational research program and the CTSA award would catapult us forward toward accomplishing greater success in bringing treatments and cures to patients and promoting the health and resilience of the populations we serve.

Much effort goes into an application of this nature that aims to “lift all boats” and this would not be feasible without your help and valuable input.

This email survey is an opportunity for you to read the proposed abstract and conceptual framework of our CTSA proposal and share your thoughts, ideas and unique perspectives on how we can make this important application better. You can read about the current initiative and provide your input by taking the following survey:
