In The News
Monday, Feb. 17, 2014

» Career change for dean of College of Medicine (Steve Goldschmid, MD, associate vice president for clinical affairs at the Arizona Health Sciences Center and vice president of physician services for the University of Arizona Health Network) 02/17/2014 Arizona Daily Wildcat

» So You Want to be a Doctor (Tara Cunningham, EdD, assistant dean for admissions and recruitment for the UA College of Medicine – Phoenix) 02/14/2014 Downtown Phoenix Journal

» Chicks N Chaps special event happening at the Tucson Rodeo (Alison Stopeck, M.D., Director of the UACC's Clinical Breast Cancer Program) 02/14/2014 KOLD-TV

» Flu spike keeps hospitals busier than usual (University of Arizona Medical Center's Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Andreas Theodorou) 02/14/2014 KVOA Tucson News

» UA scientist pushes new uses for DNA tests (Frederick Zenhausern, director of the UA's Center for Applied Nanobioscience and Medicine) 02/14/2014 Phoenix Business Journal

» Lack of psychiatric inpatient care leave ailing impatient (Dr. Ole Thienhaus, head of the UA's department of psychiatry, the University of Arizona Medical Center) 02/13/2014 Arizona Daily Wildcat

» UA researcher awarded grant to find treatment for chronic pain (Dr. Frank Porreca, professor of pharmacology and anesthesiology at the UA College of Medicine) 02/13/2014 Inside Tucson Business

» UA-Phoenix launches medical program for high school students (UA College of Medicine – Phoenix) 02/13/2014 KTAR-Radio

» Evidence suggests connection between morally uplifted thought and body (Andrew Weil, MD, founder and director of the Arizona Center for Integrative Medicine at the UA College of Medicine – Tucson) 02/12/2014 Los Altos Town Crier

» "Take two apps and call me in the morning" The future of medicine 02/12/2014 Tucson News Now