In The News
Monday, March 17, 2014

UA arthritis center hosts back pain lecture (The University of Arizona Arthritis Center's Living Healthy With Arthritis)

Cindy Wool Seminar on Humanism in Medicine set for April (University of Arizona Health Sciences & College of Medicine)

Arizona has backlog of docs waiting for licenses

Researchers Identify Risk Factors for Little-Known Lung Infection (Dr. Joe G.N. Garcia, professor of medicine and senior vice president of health sciences at Arizona Health Sciences Center in Tucson)

Sleep apnea patients can significantly benefit from specialized care (Dr. Sairam Parthasarathy, associate professor of medicine at the University of Arizona)

UAMC hires director of heart and lung transplant surgery (Dr. Scott D. Lick, professor of surgery and director of Heart and Lung Transplant Surgery at the University of Arizona Department of Surgery)

After mild winter, rattlesnakes in full bloom (Dr. Keith Boesen, director of the Arizona Poison and Drug Information Center)

Overuse of common medicine often contributes to drug poisonings (Dr. Keith Boesen, director of the Arizona Poison and Drug Information Center)

UA proposes tuition hike for next year

Bad air blankets Tucson (UA allergist Tara Carr, MD)

Bevacizumab promising for advanced cervical cancer (Bradley J. Monk, MD, University of Arizona Cancer Center)

Impact of urinary incontinence on healthcare resource utilization, health-related quality of life and productivity in patients with overactive bladder (The University of Arizona College of Pharmacy)