In The News
Monday, April 28, 2014

Tucson health briefs: Reducing Joint Pain is Focus of Talk (Dr. Jeffrey R. Lisse, University of Arizona Arthritis Center) 04/29/2014 Arizona Daily Star

UAMC studies device to predict patient falls 04/28/2014 Tucson News Now

Unknown Cellular Pathways may Help Physicians Understand End-Stage Liver Disease (University of Arizona College of Pharmacy) 04/28/2014 MedIndia

The University of Arizona Medical Center Selects BESLER Consulting’s Transfer DRG Revenue ... (The University of Arizona Medical Center) 04/28/2014 DigitalJournal.com

Poison control: a boon to Arizona (Keith Boesen, director of the Arizona Poison and Drug Information Center) 04/27/2014 Eastern Arizona Courier

Tobacco use rates in Arizona continue to drop (ASHLine, UA College of Public Health) 04/27/2014 KTAR.com

Blood-disorder patient Lizzie Bell starts endowment for sick children (The University of Arizona Medical Center) 04/26/2014 Arizona Daily Star

Acupuncture Helps Parkinson’s Disease Patients (Dr. Bijan Najafi, associate professor, Department of Surgery at UA College of Medicine-Tucson) 04/26/2014 HealthCMi

Reduced exposure to microbes triggers chronic inflammation (Dr. Charles Raison, University of Arizona) 04/24/2014 News-Medical.net