Alterations in LRIG1 Gene May Increase the Risk for Breast Cancer Relapse and Death (Patricia A. Thompson, Ph.D., an associate professor in the Department of Cellular and Molecular Medicine and leader of the Cancer Prevention and Control Program at the University of Arizona Cancer Center in Tucson)

50 Great Colleges Still Seeking Fall Students And Offering Tuition Discounts (University of Arizona)

University of Arizona Medical Center restarts heart transplant program

First human trials for “suspended animation” to start this month (Dr. Peter Rhee, of the University of Arizona in Tucson)

University of Arizona Medical Center reactivates heart transplant program