In The News
Tuesday, October 28, 2014

10/28/2014
Thermo Fisher Scientific Launches Industry’s Only End-to-End, NGS Genotyping Solution for Expanded Microbial Analysis (George Watts, Ph.D., co-director, Genomics Shared Service, University of Arizona Cancer Center)
TMCnet.com

10/27/2014
Ebola: US Patients Do Well (Sean Elliott, MD, University of Arizona Health Network and UA College of Medicine in Tucson)

10/26/2014
Focus on drug-resistant bugs lifts Tucson firm’s prospects (Dr. John Po, UA Infectious Diseases Fellowship Program)
Arizona Daily Star

10/26/2014
’60 Minutes’ Just Broke New Details On The Dallas Ebola Case. Here’s What They Revealed
(Dr. Sean P. Elliott, medical director of infection prevention at the University of Arizona Health Network)
Forbes

10/24/2014
UAMC prepares for Ebola (Dr. Allan Hamilton, UAMC head of the simulation facility)
KVOA News

10/24/2014
UA led program helping TUSD children with asthma (Dr. Lynn Gerald, director of clinical research at the Arizona Respiratory Center)
KGUN-TV