Cheryl House

Cheryl House to leave UA

Sept. 13, 2018

It is with mixed emotions that I announce Cheryl House, CFRE, will be leaving the UA at the end of September. Cheryl has been an instrumental member of the UA Health Sciences development team for more than three years and is well-respected for her keen insight, institutional knowledge, fundraising expertise and collaborative spirit.

In May 2015, Cheryl returned to the UA and helped guide a successful capital campaign for the UA College of Pharmacy, elevated the visibility of the UA Sarver Heart Center and had an impact on life-saving research and clinical trials at the UA Cancer Center. In January 2018, Cheryl assumed leadership of the UAHS Development Office as Interim Associate Vice President and Chief Development Officer, providing sound leadership during a period of uncertainty and several staff departures.

Cheryl has decided to pursue a new role as a development consultant, which provides her with more flexibility to spend time with her family and even more time to travel.

Please join me in extending sincere thanks to Cheryl for her dedication and service to the University of Arizona.
