Manon O'Connor

Development Team Re-aligns for FY19

July 26, 2018

To the UAHS Community:

We are writing to share some important updates about our development team.

For the last eight months, Cheryl House has provided critical leadership and elevated all aspects of fundraising, including strategy, communications and principal gifts work for health sciences. Cheryl has decided to step down from her interim role and will resume her position as Senior Director of Development for the University of Arizona Health Sciences. We are very deeply appreciative of Cheryl's hard work during a time of significant transition within the UAHS development team.

We are pleased to announce Manon O'Connor will serve as Acting Associate Vice President and Chief Development Officer for UAHS. Since joining the UDP last November, Manon has made a tremendous impact in the UA College of Medicine – Tucson, building many critical relationships to advance the college. She will drive our team's strategy for all health sciences, working closely with our colleges, centers and partners to ensure a strategic approach to our development efforts.

We are confident that this re-alignment will optimize this development team's ability to meet and exceed our fundraising goals at a time when we are poised to be a transformative force in medical education, research and clinical care.

Please join us in congratulating Manon on this appointment and offering gratitude to Cheryl for her continued dedication to the University of Arizona and our donors.
