Heather Hartling, MS

Announcement from the office of the Senior Vice President for UA Health Sciences

Heather Hartling joins UAHS as Interim Chief of Staff

To build a strong team, you need the right people with the right skills to make things happen.

I have found the right person.

I am pleased to welcome Heather Hartling, MS to our health sciences team as interim Chief of Staff. She is a seasoned professional with more than 15 years' experience in academic medical center settings, successfully coordinating clinical, research and teaching missions with the evolving business needs of universities, hospitals and practice plans. After just a few short days, it is evident that she will quickly become a valuable asset to our team, with proven success in business and clinical operations, strategic planning, budgeting, analysis and team-building.

Heather previously served as Executive Director of the Banner University Medical Group, playing a key leadership role in the clinical mission of multiple departments. From 2012-2015, Heather was administratively responsible for the management, integration and advancement of Diamond Children's Medical Center, Steele Children's Research Center and other basic, translational and clinical research for these entities.
